

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

1) Name of the Department : History

2) Year of Establishment : 1970

3) Scope and importance of the department:

History is what we lived, its grandeur, magnificence, loss, pains, victories and celebrations, the struggle for humanity.

Scope: History as a branch of (learning) knowledge stretches itself in social sciences and humanities. History as subject has a great interdisciplinary relevance. Every branch of knowledge has its own history i.e. History of political thoughts, History of Economics Developments, History of English language and Literature.

Thus, History can be studied from various perspectives i.e., chronological, national, geographical, ideological etc. History is interrelated with Anthropology, Geography, Philosophy, Economics, and Sociology. Various branches that are studied in History are Historiography, Archaeology, Numismatics, museology etc. Chronological history paves way to study the history in timeline. National or Geographical histories can give picture of particular nation or geographical region.

Today, in the age of globalization there are blurring lines / sense of national history. Postmodernism and information and technology have given new dimension to the study of History. Hence, there are new challenges in teaching & learning of History as a subject. Growing interference and virtual warfare have changed the course and resources of history.

So it's high time to be well-equipped with all latest methodologies and knowledge resources to impart the education of history.
